

Rhode Island Department of Elementary and Secondary Education
School Choice 2004-05
Revised 11/22/04

In August 2004, RIDE staff reviewed the 2004 assessment results, attendance rates, and graduation rates of all schools that could face NCLB sanctions during the 2004-05 school year. (Only schools that receive federal Title I funds are subject to these sanctions.)

This is the status of all schools that were reviewed:

Schools that improved and face no sanctions:

Guiteras School, Bristol-Warren
Alan Shawn Feinstein School, Central Falls
Gladstone Street School, Cranston
B.F. Norton Elementary School, Cumberland
Kent Heights School, East Providence
Metcalf School, Exeter-West Greenwich
Thornton School, Johnston
Carey School, Newport
Dr. M.H. Sullivan School, Newport
Fallon Memorial School, Pawtucket
Alan Shawn Feinstein Elementary School, Providence
Asa Messer School, Providence
Edmund W. Flynn Elementary School, Providence
Robert F. Kennedy School, Providence
Robert L. Bailey IV School, Providence
Vartan Gregorian Elementary, Providence
Webster Avenue School, Providence
West Broadway School, Providence
Oakland Beach Elementary School, Warwick (formerly had to offer choice)
Bernon Heights School, Woonsocket
Social Street School, Woonsocket (formerly had to offer choice)
Rhode Island School for the Deaf, state-operated
Paul Cuffee School, charter school

Schools that improved but must still offer choice/supplemental services (they must improve for two years in a row to face no sanctions):

Margaret I. Robertson School, Central Falls
Ella Risk School, Central Falls (SS)
Dr. Earl F. Calcutt Middle School, Central Falls (SS)
Curvin-McCabe School, Pawtucket (SS)
Joseph Jenks Jr. High School, Pawtucket (SS)
Anthony Carnevale School, Providence
Mary E. Fogarty Elementary School, Providence
Kevin K. Coleman Elementary School, Woonsocket (SS)
The Met School, state-operated (SS)

Schools that did not improve sufficiently (missed at least one target) and must offer choice for the first time:

Colt-Andrews School, Bristol-Warren
 Veterans Memorial Elementary School, Central Falls
 Northern Lincoln Elementary School
 Cunningham School, Pawtucket
 Elizabeth Baldwin School, Pawtucket
 Henry J. Winters School, Pawtucket
 Shea Sr. High School, Pawtucket
 Carl G. Lauro, Providence
 Charles Fortes Academy, Providence
 Harry Kizirian Elementary, Providence
 Laurel Hill Avenue, Providence
 Pleasant View School, Providence
 Reservoir Avenue School, Providence
 Sergeant Cornel Young School, Providence
 Windmill Street School, Providence
 Governor Christopher Del Sesto Middle School, Providence
 Citizens Memorial School, Woonsocket

Schools that did not improve sufficiently (missed at least one target) and now must offer supplemental services as well:

Central Falls Senior High School
 Alfred Lima Sr. Elementary School, Providence
 Charlotte Woods Elementary School, Providence
 George J. West Elementary School, Providence
 Veazie Street School, Providence
 Gilbert Stuart Middle School, Providence
 Springfield Middle School, Providence

Schools that did not improve sufficiently (missed at least one target) and now must face corrective action as well:

Esek Hopkins Middle School, Providence
 Nathan Bishop Middle School, Providence
 Nathanael Greene Middle School, Providence
 Roger Williams Middle School, Providence
 Samuel W. Bridgham Middle School, Providence

School that did not improve sufficiently (missed at least one target) and now faces restructuring as well:

Oliver Hazard Perry Middle School, Providence